888 THE
ONTARIO
MEDAL FOR FIREFIGHTERS
BRAVERY

THE CANADIAN FIREFIGHTER

Vol 3, No.15 July 1979

This is at once a sad and happy occasion Your Honour. A happy one because we are gathered here to honour the courage and dedication of firefighters across this province who daily risk their lives for the safety of their fellow citizens.

A sad occasion because we have the unhappy duty of presenting the first posthumous award of the Ontario Medal for Firefighters Bravery to the late Firefighter Michael Charles Fikis of Thunder Bay.

I know Your Honour, and indeed all the people of Ontario, want this investiture and this medal to reflect our grateful thanks and our highest esteem, although we are aware that nothing can truly compensate for the loss of this fine and brave man and for the life he had with his young family.

His own nobleness of spirit, his singular courage, his life as a husband and father and as a citizen are the true and lasting monuments of Firefighter Fikis; the well-forged inheritance he leaves those closest to him and the community at large.

That acknowledged, however, it is fitting and proper that we have established in this province since 1976 an awards structure whereby it is possible for the people of Ontario to express their appreciation and esteem for those engaged in the demanding and often dangerous occupation of firefighting.

The medals serve as a way to focus public attention on the important role the firefighter plays in our society through rewarding individual acts of courage by these men in the course of their daily duties. The men so honoured here today are not the only ones to have dared much for their fellow citizens. The rosters of the fire departments across this province are filled with similar valerous men. These firefighters, then, are the bravest of the brave, men who by attitude and example set the standard for all to follow.

The task of selecting and recommending today's candidates was that of an Advisory Committee composed of members who are familiar with the great responsibility and high skills the public expects from the more than 22,000 professional and volunteer firefighters in Ontario.

I want to thank the members of the Advisory Council for their assistance and congratulate them on the quality of the candidates they have selected.

We are here today to recognize the deeds of men who act courageously and unselfishly when fire breaks out. They do not stop to ask whether this fire could have been prevented; they perform their duties without qualification. Therefore, I think it is incumbent on all of us to consider ways in which we can improve the fire safety of our environments. All of us should exercise more caution in our own lives in an effort to eliminate tragic fires that put at risk the lives of ordinary citizens and firefighters alike.

Your Honour, it is a great privilege for me to take part with you in this investiture and with this award, to express the gratitude of a grateful public to the recipients and, through them, their fellow firefighters across the province.

I am pleased to introduce to you the first recipient of the Ontario Medal for Firefighters Bravery, Irwin Lobsinger, the former chief of the Walkerton Fire Department.

A much-honoured and brave man, Chief Lobsinger earned his Firefighters Bravery Medal for the courage he displayed in entering a smoke-filled and flame-filled residence without a breathing apparatus in an attempt to rescue a five-year-old boy.

A police officer and two firemen had previously attempted to go up the stairs to the young lad's rescue in the May 1977 fire, but were driven back by heat and smoke.

Chief Lobsinger decided to go in through an upstairs window even though he realized the opening was too small to permit him to wear a breathing apparatus. He groped around the second floor before finding the frightened boy huddled against the wall in a bedroom.

The Chief passed the boy out the window and then collapsed himself. He was pulled to safety by his men and was hospitalized in critical condition for five days.

Unfortunately, young Keith Flynn died, dospite the Chief's heroic efforts. The sympathies of the people of Ontario go out to his family.

I now call upon Fire Chief Lloyd Hehn of the Walkerton Fire Department to present Chief Lobsinger to Your Honour for investiture.

Your Honour, the second recipient is First Class Firefighter Ron Gorrie of the Thunder Bay Fire Department.

Firefighter Gorrie's medal was won as a result of a fire which claimed the life of our third recipient, Firefighter Michael Charles Fikis, and a citizen, Jack Bendick, owner of a chip silo which caught fire in March 1979.

Firefighter Gorrie heard a faint call for help from Firefighter Fikis who had gone into the silo to rescue the owner. Despite the fact he had no air pack, Firefighter Gorrie dashed in to help. As both firefighters worked to save Mr. Bendick, Mr. Fikis collapsed. Attempts to revive Mr. Fikis were made until Mr. Gorrie was about to be overcome himself. He managed to reach a ladder and was pulled to safety and taken to hospital where he was treated for smoke inhalation.

Your Honour, Firefighter Corrie demonstrated extraordinary courage in the best traditions of his profession. I would now ask Fire Chief Walter Drew of the Thunder Bay Fire Department to present Firefighter Gorrie to you for the award of his medal.

The next award Your Honour, is posthumous and recognizes the selfless act of courage of Firefighter Fikis.

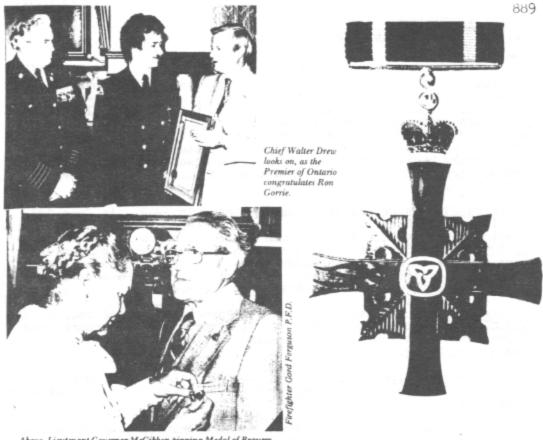

Firefighter Fikis, upon arrival at the fire, entered the silo to search for Mr. Bendick who had been overcome by fumes.

He found the stricken man and immediately took off his face mask to share his oxygen with Mr. Bendick in an attempt to revive him. But the fumes were so thick and deadly, that Firefighter Fikis was quickly overcome himself. And as we heard, the efforts of Firefighter Gorrie to rescue both men were tragically in vain.

Your Honour, the decision to share his oxygen with Mr. Bendick, was a most generous and brave act on behalf of Firefighter Fikis. His tragic, yet noble death, underlines the debt all of us owe to firefighters across this province who daily live with the reality that the performance of their duty could cost them their lives. I say now, on my own behalf, and on behalf of my Cabinet Colleagues and the people of Ontario, that we are deeply indebted to Firefighter Fikis and regret very much that such a good man was lost to us and to his family.

We are privileged today, Your Honour, to have the son and daughter of Firefighter Fikis here to receive their father's medal. Jamie and Kristin the people of Ontario are very proud of your father and are most grateful that you are here to accept this medal which acknowledges our debt to him.

I would ask Chief Drew to present Jamie and Kristin to Your Honour for the investiture.

Above, Lieutenant Governor McGibbon pinning Medal of Bravery on Chief Irwin Lobsinger

Medals of Bravery

Two Canadian Forces members were awarded Medals of Bravery by the governor general. Captain William MacLennan, a protestant chaplain from St. Peter's, N.S. disarmed a distraught man at CFB Gagetown on April 26, 1977. Warrant Officer Edgar Weatherbee, of Truro, N.S., while serving with the Canadian Airborne Regiment at Petawawa, saved Corporal R.C. O'Brien from falling to his death while parachuting near CFB Borden on October 30, 1977.

Plastic cap badges were authorized in Great Britain by an Army Council Instruction in 1941 as a measure to conserve metal. The number of badges were extended from time to time until almost 100 regiments and corps were represented. Plastic badges were used well into the 1950's. The badges proved to be unsatisfactory in use as they were fragile and broke. The metal prong fasteners were easily broken after little use. In Great Britain plastic cap badges were produced in three colours - chocolate brown, grey and light fawn.

In Canada a shortage of brass developed in 1942. In June 1942 the Inspection Board asked if plastic badges could be produced here. Samples were obtained from Britain for examination and on September 9, 1942 it was decided to produce such badges. Three companies were asked to produce hand-made badges that month for submission prior to a contract being let. All badges were to be made from cellulose acetate in a chocolate brown colour.

The Canadian Buttons Ltd., Montreal produced plastic badges for R.C.O.C., R.C.A.S.C. and R.C.A.F. M. Wintrob & Son, Toronto made R.C.E. and R.C.A. while Percy Herman Ltd., Toronto produced plastic badges for R.C.E. and Q.O.R.

Orders were finally placed for the following badges under contract R.C.E.; R.C.A.; R.C.A.S.C.; R.C.O.C.; R.C. Sigs; Canadian Parachute Corps; R.C.A.F. buttons; and later the C.T.T.C.

The availability of scrap brass and the cost of plastic moulds precluded their large scale use when only small numbers of badges were required.

UNITED NATIONS INTERIM FORCE IN LEBANON

The standard U.N. medal with a new ribbon will be awarded to Canadian troops for 90 days' service with the United Nations Interim Force in Lebanon, about 120 men.

The ribbon represents the flags of the U.N. and Lebanon. From one end it is described (length in mm):- U.N. blue (9), white (1.5), red (1), white (1.5), dark green (9), white (1.5), red (1), white (1.5), U.N. blue (9).

Many of the above were not Canadians. If you have information on the above individuals I would be pleased to send the address of a person who is researching any of the above. In any case it makes a nice list of the fortunate few who survived.

UNFICYP - Cyprus

In early April the 3e Bataillon Royal 22e Régiment based at Valcartier, Quebec, replaced the 8th Canadian Hussars (Princess Louise's) in Cyprus. In early October, the Vandoos were replaced by 290 officers and men of the Lord Strathcona's Horse (Royal Canadians) (LdSH(RC)) based at Calgary, augmented by 126 personnel from 3rd Regiment, Royal Canadian Horse Artillery, CFB Shilo, Manitoba. It was the 32nd rotation to take place since Canadians began serving there in March, 1964.

UNEF - Egypt and UNDOF - Syria, Israel

On July 24th, the UN Security Council allowed the 4,000-man UN Emergency Force Middle East's (UNEFME) mandate to expire after nearly six years of existence. Repatriation of the 850-man Canadian contingent responsible for the forces logistics and communications is now complete. However, United Nations headquarters requested Canada to supply 50 additional troops to the UN Disengagement Observer Force on the Golan Heights. The augmentation of UNDOF permits the establishment of a movement control detachment in Latakia, Syria and an increase in logistical services on the Golan Heights to compensate for support formerly provided by UNEFME.

During the period of the UNEF mandate over 12,000 Canadian Regular and Reserve personnel have served in the area.

Small Arms Competition

This was followed in August by the annual Canadian Forces'

Small Arms competitions at Connaught Ranges near Ottawa. This year the coveted Queen's Medals were won by Regular Force Master Corporal

Tony Cromwell of Birchtown, N.S., of the Airborne Regiment, CFB Petawawa, and Reserve Force Corporal Dave Oakie, a member of the Loyal Edmonton Regiment.

By VERNE MCILWRAITH

For an inland city, Guelph's connections with the seas are most notable. even apart from the fact that the Royal City gave great numbers of its citizens to serve in the naval arm of the war services.

In another column it was recalled that the city founder, John Galt, thought he saw a connection with the Atlantic through the River Speed and its connections with the Grand River and Lake Erie leading to the new St. Lawrence route.

An honor held by few seaboard communities can be bragged about by Guelph since there have been two men associated with this city who served as admirals of the British Navy and later contributed much to the development of naval installations on Canada's coasts.

The other column dealt specifically with Admiral Sir Charles Edmund Kingsmill CMG, born here July 7, 1855, who retired from the British Navy in 1908 to take charge of maritime service for Canada. He had much to do with the formation of the Canadian Navy in 1910 and died in 1935, after serving as first director of Canadian Naval Service.

The other British Admiral was William Oswald Story, CBE, who was born in 1859, son of Joseph Story of Cavan, England. He married in 1891 Olive Janet, daughter of Capt. Baldwin, NZ, to whom were born three sons and seven daughters.

His naval service was at Perak Expedition 1875-76; Egypt 1882; Souskin, 1886; European War, 1914-19, in which he won several honors, including his CBE, from Britain; as well as others form Japan and Spain.

Admiral Story joined the Royal Navy as a cadet in the later part of the tast century and gained promotion through various ranks up to captain in 1902. He became rear admiral in 1911. in which rank he retired from the Royal Navy and took up residence in Guelph. He was promoted viceadmiral on the retired list of the Royal Navy in April 1917, and to admiral in Oct. 1919.

On the outbreak of war, Admiral Story volunteered his services for duty with the Canadian Government and with the consent of the Admiralty he was appointed as superindendant, HMC Dockyards, Esquimalt, B.C., and in charge of naval establishments on the Pacific coast in Oct. 1914. He continued in that appointment until January 1918. During that time he was attached to HMCS Clearwater. (shore establishment).

As there was little danger of hostile activities on the Pacific Coast that year and as activities on the Atlantic Coast were expanding to meet the threat of submarine warfare, Adm. Story was transfered to the east coast. While attached to HMCS Niobe from Feb. 1, 1918 until May 15, 1919 he was named admiral superintendant of the HMC Dockyard at Halifax, N.S. He was demobilized in Feb. 1919 upon reduction to a peace basis of the Royal Canadian Navy.

In 1932 his services were again utilized in the RCN for the purpose of presiding over court martial proceedings, (which apparently were not too numerous).

Throughout his services with the Canadian naval forces, Adm. Story's career was outstanding and his sound judgment and extensive experience were most valuable in the RCN throughout the trying years of the Great War, (1914-18).

There are no definite details as to how long and what period he lived in Guelph, but during his Canadian years he did have a Montreal address.

THE ROYAL IRISH

I wish to make it clear that the Harp & Crown badge was in use only between the years 1881-1922, the Regiment being disbarded in the latter year.

The badge to which I referred was the one used prior to 1881, in which year the Regiment ceased to be known as the 19th Regiment of Foot - the Royal Irisl: and became the 1st and 2nd Battalions of The Royal Irish Regiment. The Wexford Militia became the 3rd (Militia) Battalion; The North Tipperary Light Infantry became the 4th (Militia) Battalion, and The Kilkenny Fusiliers, the 5th (Militia) Battalion. It was at that time (1881) that the badge referred to by the Major was struck and worn by all ranks.

The composition of the badge prior to 1881 was the Garter inscribed "Royal Irish" and divided top and bottom by a bur, superscribed "Egypt"; the top half showing the Sphinx, and the bottom half the numeral "18", the whole surmounted by the Lion rampant. The Lion was also worn on a shield as the collar badge of the Regiment, and during the last war when collar badges were worn only by commissioned ranks, the cap badge in bronse was worn on the collar.

As "Retired Major" has suggested the possibility of my "mixing up" the badge of the Royal Irish Regiment with other Irish regiments carrying the prefix "Royal", it is interveting to note the fact that all Irish regiments had that honour. with the exceptions of The Inniskilling Dragoons and The Connaught Rangers.

In conclusion, the Regiment under discursion was formed in 1684 and was known as the Royal Regiment of Ireland. It had the honour of being the senior frish regiment and continued so until the Colours were handed over to their King at Windsor Castle on 12th June, 1922, thereby closing 238 years of glorious service to the Empire. - R.
